Your desire to have a swimming pool is likely encoded in your DNA. That's because swimming pools date back to 2600 B.C. Many Grecian cities had public baths but one of the oldest designs for private pools was developed by the Romans for European courts.

The Swanston Fibreglass Pool brings you that luxurious court style without the hundreds of days of construction involved to create it. That design was one of a rectangular, that allows for free swimming in the center and conversations and rest on the long ledge.

This design instantly elevates any backyard to one of class and grandeur.

Our Swanston fibreglass pool has a 5m, 7m & 8m

The deep end of this Swanston is 1.65 to 1.75 metres in the 8m and the shallow end is 1.1 metres. That means you can go deep and long or tuck in on the shallow end for some food and drinks as you enjoy your day or night. A rectangular pool is great but the curved ends of this fibreglass pool elevate the atmosphere of your space. We might be in Australia, but that doesn't mean we can't bring a little bit of the old world down to us.
